Invasive Green Crabs in Washington Salish Sea

What do we Know and What's Next?

March 2, 2017 • 6 - 7pm

Garden Room, Civic Center Annex, 322 Commercial, Bellingham

The capture of five European green crabs on San Juan Island and in Padilla Bay last fall offer the first evidence that this globally damaging invasive species has expanded its range into Washington's Salish Sea. Learn what we know about green crab in these areas, what the steps are in responding to these sightings, and what you can do to help.
